

Colorful lilies sacrificed for street safety

OFF WITH THEIR HEADS!

And two hundred lavender and white Lilies of the Nile tumbled to the Murrieta Boulevard pavement.

Just minutes before, the flowers had danced in the sunshine on their slender stalks, greeting Livermore Unified School District workers who arrived at the administration building for work Thursday morning.

The district office houses one Lilies of the Nile lover in particular, Mrs. Dee Damon, secretary to the superintendent. She had donated some plants of the very same variety to adorn the district office entrance, and felt a certain kinship with the mass of bright blooms across the street.

Now, nothing remained except sword-shaped leaves and stunted stalks.

Mrs. Damon was aghast at the slaughter "DO something!" she urged, accosting visitors. But it was too late. The massacre was complete before it could be stopped.

Meanwhile, back at the Public Works Office on the other side of town, workers were congratulating themselves on removing a traffic menace.

Two citizens had phoned the office and two had gone to the trouble to write letters, complaining that the four and a half-foot-tall blossoms obstructed visibility along Murrieta.

Bikers became hidden by flowers as they waited in the Las Positas Boulevard jughandle to make a turn. People trying to pull out of Alameda Drive couldn't see oncoming cars. An accident seemed impending.

"We left them there as long as possible," sighed Dan Freitas, who engineered the flowers' demise.

"The law requires 150-foot visibility. People were within the law to ask for them to be removed."

Freitas acknowledged it had been the public works department who had selected the plants in the first place. But they were all right for some five years before they grew so tall, he explained.

Does this mean the end of cheerful clusters of color along the concrete-lined boulevard?

By no means. "We'll thin them out," Freitas promised.

"Or plant a dwarf species which only grows about two feet high."

"It will still have the same effect as the tall ones," he consoled, "but it won't be so dangerous."

Kidnapped youngsters found here

A depleted gravel pit close by Livermore's city limits became the focal point of a state-wide search Friday evening when 25 children and one adult were discovered, ending the nation's most bizarre kidnapping. The youngsters and their adult bus driver had been crammed into a small pit, covered over with boards and rocks, apparently by three white male kidnappers who left no clue as to the motive for the abduction which began in Chowchilla, late Thursday afternoon. This view looks west from Livermore with Pleasanton in the background. Stanley Boulevard runs from top to bottom through the right edge of this aerial photo. Vineyard Avenue is off the left of the photo.

Kidnapping trio search spreads

PLEASANTON — Sheriff's department officials last night scratched the name "Jerry McCune" from their all points bulletin for three suspects in the mass kidnapping of 26 children and their school bus driver, and extended their search for the men to Nevada.

The valley has not been eliminated from the intensive, state-wide search, however. Alameda County Sheriff Thomas Houchins said Friday night "the suspects apparently knew the area" where the children and driver were found, a Cal Rock gravel quarry pit adjacent to Livermore about one-eighth of a mile from some homes.

Sheriff's department spokesmen would not say why "Jerry McCune" had been cancelled from the list, and had no substitute description for the third man involved in the kidnapping.

Police have stepped up and spread to Nevada their search for two heavily armed white men, one described as 36-years-old with curly black hair, a tattoo on his right forearm and a chipped tooth, and the other as 27-years-old with brown hair and blue eyes and a mole on the right side of his chin.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the mass kidnapping suspects.

The children and driver last night were working with Madera County officials to build composite drawings of the suspects.

"If we could figure out why the kids were taken, we could find the men right away," one deputy sheriff said.

State Attorney General Evelle Younger, who drove to the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center Friday night as the children were being cared for and quizzed by sheriff's deputies and FBI agents, said: "We have not had a clue from the kids as to why they were taken."

The kidnappers apparently said little as they drove the children and their driver around for 10 hours in the trip from Chullavista, 95 miles southeast of Livermore.

They were abducted Thursday afternoon, Houchins said, when the driver slowed down for a van pulled to the side of the road. Two men — one with a handgun, the other "possibly a sawed-off shotgun," said Houchins — ordered the driver and kids "to get to the back of the bus and be quiet."

Meanwhile, police are searching for the three suspects and their two vans.

Both are either Dodge or Ford vans equipped with two citizens' band radio antennae each.

One is a white van with porthole windows on the sides, a windowless rear door, carpeted floor and ceiling, a partition between the driver and passenger, silver front bumper with white rear bumper, and license plate 1J-414.

The other is described as a "medium blue or medium green" van with chrome or white wheels and blue lugnuts, a rear door with two windows and two windows on the sides, a partition, and license plate CL5-414 or CL5-415.

Sheriff's deputies and FBI agents combed the quarry yesterday and will be back again today. The area has been sealed off.

Cancelled racing cost $600,000

Fair finances suffer new state setback

The Alameda County Fair Board, its coffers deprived of an estimated $600,000 in horse racing revenue, apparently will not benefit from legislation designed to help state-supported fairs and signed last week by Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.

The legislation by assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis, head of the Joint Fairs Allocation and Classification Committee, will take an additional one-cent from each dollar wagered at county fair horse racing meets, and will establish a $3 million a year capital outlay loan fund for county fair associations.

The extra 1 per cent collected by the state will go in the fair and exposition fund and be granted to fair operations as a state subsidy.

The loan fund will make $3 million available to fair associations in each of the next three years. Money borrowed may be paid back in up to 15-year loans at interest rates determined by the five-year average interest the state earns on its surplus revenues.

But the Alameda County Fair Association, its racing cancelled and revenues cut drastically because of the county employees strike, apparently will not be able to take advantage of the loan fund.

The legislation goes into effect Jan. 1, and the one-cent revenue collected from races that start in June will be available next summer. The local fair association may get a bigger stipend from the state, a spokesman said, but it won't come until next summer.

In the meantime, the $3 million in long-term, low interest loans available for capital improvements probably will not go to Pleasanton because the local fair association is strapped for funds.

The money has to be paid back, the state spokesman said, and the Alameda County Fair Association simply does not have the funds.

"Their operating reserves probably will be eaten up covering their fair losses," he said.

There is hope, though, he added.

The state will examine the local fair board's plight and may find it eligible for a direct grant or maintenance money from the state fairs' coffers.

The latter fund, however, is down to about $200,000, the spokesman said.

Relief also could come from separate legislation designed specifically to help the Alameda County Fair Association.

The 1 per cent increase in the state's share of parimutuel wagers will be used "for fairs that show a need for operational support in excess of the $65,000 state ceiling on current operating support," said the state official.

That money can be used to augment fair premiums, projects in vocational education at the fairs or department of food and agricultural exhibits.

The loan fund, however, is limited to capital outlays.

Any loan of more than $1 million qualifies for the 15-year pay back, and any loan for health and safety is subject to a maximum 6 per cent interest rate.

Alameda County Fair Association Secretary-manager Lee Hall was unavailable for comment.

Demoted fireman appeals case in Fallon House blaze mistake

PLEASANTON — A demotion and loss in pay that resulted from that "mistaken identity" burning of historic Fallon House will now lead to a public hearing, and it could wind up as a court test of the city's right to punish those believed responsible for that fire.

The Times has learned that Captain George Withers was reduced in rank to a lieutenant, and his pay cut some $300 per month, following a "disciplinary hearing" into the burning of Fallon House. Also demoted was Fire Marshal Ted Klink, it is reported.

Withers is appealing his demotion, and has also taken the unusual step of asking for a public hearing. That appeal will be heard Thursday morning before a seven-member Personnel Committee. The committee's finding is forwarded to City Manager William Edgar who might then "uphold or reverse that finding," explained Larry Miller, assistant to the CM.

Withers has the further option of asking the city council to review Edgar's final decision, and following any possible council review, could still "take the matter to court" seeking legal redress from his demotion.

The disciplinary actions against Withers and Klink (no other actions were apparently taken) resulted from the May 21 "training fire" exercise during which a team of fire fighters, drawn from various Valley companies and coordinated by the Pleasanton crew, were to burn down an abandoned structure on Foothill Road.

The fire fighters mistakenly burned instead the nearby Fallon House, a ranch house with links to the Valley's early history. The Dublin Historical Preservation Association had earlier gained permission and financing to relocate and restore the Fallon House, and that group is still threatening legal action against Pleasanton for the loss of that structure.

Pleasanton has rejected any such claim, noting that Fallon House never was the property of the Dublin group. The city however has acknowledged the mistake in burning that structure, and has formally apologized for that error.

Livermore seeks to evict airport operator Madis

LIVERMORE — The City of Livermore will take legal action next week to evict David Madis, the fixed base operator of the Livermore Airport.

City Attorney Robert Logan reported that the city will probably file unlawful detainer papers against Madis in court next week, the first step toward evicting Madis from the airport.

The City of Livermore owns the airport, but, as holder of the major lease, Madis operates the airport for the city. He has entered into four sub-leases.

Under the terms of an agreement between Madis and the city, Madis is required to pay a monthly rent plus a small percentage of the airport's gross receipts to the city.

In order to substantiate the amount of gross receipts, Madis is also required to furnish to the city copies of his tax return as well as copies of the tax returns of the four sub-lessees.

It is the city's contention that after serving proper legal notification, Madis failed to comply fully by the final deadline, about 5 p.m. last Monday.

So with the approval of the city council in an executive session Monday night, Logan received authority to begin processing the unlawful detainer action after 5 p.m. on Tuesday.

After the city files its complaint, Madis will have ten days to answer it. There will then be a hearing to determine whether Madis may stay or be evicted.

Logan noted this legal procedure may be costly and time-consuming. If the action results in Madis' eviction, the city council then may begin to look for another FBO to operate its airport.

Mounted marital match

Shortly before Livermore's first professional All Girl Rodeo began Saturday, Gloria Paulsen, a skilled bronc and bull rider from Colorado, married Don Caswell, a cowboy from New Mexico.

Popsicle patrol pays off

Livermore police officer Rod Brisendine helps distribute popsicles from an ice cream truck as part of that agency's continued campaign to look for burglary activity in residential areas. John La Mana of Debbie's Ice Cream Co. allowed Brisendine aboard while he makes his rounds, as have other local businesses cooperating in the crime prevention detail. Between doling out fudge bombs and 50-50's, Brisendine keeps an eye out for suspicious activity in different neighborhoods. As a result of this prevention detail and others like it, residential burglaries in Livermore have decreased 44 per cent over the last three months. (Times photo by Bill Cauble)

LLL moves to avert strike

LIVERMORE — Spokesmen for management at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory had little to say in reaction to a unanimous strike vote taken by members of Laborers International Union Local 1276 Thursday evening.

Union members are protesting the possible imposition of a $70 a month across-the-board pay hike that they argue shouldn't be applied to them, since they are not state employees. If they accept the raise, they say it will amount to a lesser increase than promised and altered salary hike schedules.

Dan Wilkes of the Lab's public information office said management had no direct comment on the strike vote, saying a pay package is being prepared for union consideration sometime this week.

"We hope there won't be a strike. We're working in a direction that we hope will avert one," Wilkes said Friday.

A bill signed two weeks ago by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. provides for a $70 a month across-the-board pay hike for all state employees. Union members, including machinists, warehousemen and materials handlers, are worried that Lab management might consider them state employees and grant them the $70 raise, precluding them from receiving a larger hike through negotiations.

The Lab is operated for the U.S. Energy Research and Development Agency by the University of California.

The union claims that management had promised raises based on a survey of prevailing wages in the area that was conducted jointly by both sides. According to union spokesmen, that survey shows that workers should receive a 9.4 per cent increase. The $70 hike would amount to roughly 4 per cent.

Union members held a 90-minute meeting Thursday, and by unanimous voice vote, decided to strike if the $70 raise was imposed on them. They agreed not to strike until Wednesday at the earliest, allowing management time for a counter-proposal.

Livermore may retain general plan expert

LIVERMORE — The City of Livermore may hire an independent engineering and planning consultant to assist the city in upcoming meetings with Alameda County on amendments to the Livermore-Amador Valley element of the Alameda County General Plan amendments currently under development.

The city council will consider Monday night a recommendation from City Manager Bill Parness that Livermore retain Robert L. Williams, president of Coleman-Williams, Inc. to help formulate the city's response to the County's General Plan amendments and New Town Proposal.

An agreement orally negotiated between the city staff and Coleman-Williams stipulates that Williams would consult on the "critical planning and development issues and the development of an effective City position in response to the County's General Plan amendments and issues related to the Las Positas New Town proposal."

The consultant would also prepare and present planning testimony reflecting the city's position before the Alameda County Planning Commission, the Board of Supervisors, and other agencies.

Approximately six days will be required to complete the work. Two days will be spent on plan-report reconnaissance and analysis, two days for strategy sessions with city and county officials, and two days to prepare and present the material.

Cost for the consultation will run about $1,750.

At the city council meeting last week, Parness said the County Planning Commission had hoped to have the Livermore-Amador element of the General Plan amendments completed by the end of July.

But Alameda County Planning Director Bill Fraley said Friday that due to a strike by county employees, it may be "late summer" before a draft valley element is completed.

After that, the element must be considered by the Alameda County Planning Commission who will formally refer the draft to the cities of Livermore and Pleasanton and then hold public hearings.

The draft, modified if necessary by the planning commission, will then proceed to the Board of Supervisors who will hold another public hearing, or series of hearings if required.

Given the possibility for controversy, Fraley said he doubted the plan would receive final approval much before the end of the year.

Parness said the city wants to hire an independent consultant in order to make the best possible presentation of the city's case at the public hearings.

According to Fraley, the Livermore-Amador Valley element of the General Plan should be reviewed every two years. But he said it has been almost five years since the last review was undertaken.

Though the Las Positas element of the county's plan was reviewed last year, Fraley said the review now underway would take another look at the Las Positas area.

Murray board eyes budget, studies enrollment drops

DUBLIN — The 1976-77 publication budget and more background on declining enrollment in area school districts head the Murray School District agenda for Monday night's meeting.

Trustees will convene at 8 p.m. at Murray School District, 8435 Davona Dr.

The budget now totals $7,596,964, an increase of a little over $200,000 from the 1975-76 budget.

Murray lists an operating reserve of $251,000 for 76-77, as compared with $90,213 last year. Again, 80 to 85 per cent of the budget goes to certificated and classified salaries and benefits.

The district estimates $3.3 million to come from state sources and $3.9 million from local sources.

Trustees will also receive a letter recommending an overpass.

A discussion last month on overpasses connecting areas east and west of Highway 680 brought forth several residents opposed to a West Las Positas overpass.

Also on the agenda is an informational item concerning police notification by schools in the district, a food services tax, the district publication "News and Views", and the educational television contract.

The special sessions will consider what budget cuts should be made. The administration listed a series of cuts, including extension of the walking area in both districts, at meetings several weeks ago.

Supervisorial hopeful Raymond New Murphy support team attacked

First supervisorial district candidate Valerie Raymond last week attacked published reports she is losing support from the camp of former Fremont challenger Irene Vincent.

According to the reports, Vincent's supporters are upset at Raymond's refusal to hold a fund raiser to pay off Vincent's campaign debt.

Vincent finished third behind incumbent supervisor John D. Murphy and Raymond, who will meet in the November general election.

Raymond says she turned down a request by Vincent's supporters to hold the fund raising from which $1,250 would have been taken off the top to pay Vincent's campaign debt. The balance would have gone to the Raymond campaign.

"There was no way we could participate in such a proposal," says Raymond. "We would have had to sell (most of) the tickets to my supporters with the understanding that their money would be going to pay off Irene's debt before any of it went to me."

The alternative, she says, would have been keeping the arrangement quiet, "which would have been highly deceitful and quite possibly illegal under the terms of Prop 9," the fair campaign practices initiative.

Vincent's supporters reportedly have swung their active support to Murphy. Raymond says her campaign was "issue oriented and my supporters are dedicated to improving county government ... Irene's and my positions on the issues were substantially similar, (and) I am at a loss to know what (Vincent's supporters) are talking about."

Vincent formally endorsed Raymond after the June 8 primary.

Safe and happy

FBI agents and Alameda County sheriff's deputies quizzed each of the 26 children found Friday night in quarry pits adjoining Livermore (right). The children were taken to the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center for thorough interviews, then, some clothed in prison garb, given run of the jail's training room. Cots were provided, but who could sleep? Still joking and playing with the press and deputies at 1 a.m., most were sound asleep when reunited with their parents in Chowchilla.

Freed youths tell of ordeal

CHOWCHILLA (AP) — At first, some thought it was a joke. But as 26 school children were taken to a dark subterranean prison and locked up, they bravely sang songs to keep their spirits up, some wet their pants and one fainted.

"We kids were asking all the time why they were doing this to us," said 9-year-old Jennifer Brown. "They didn't say anything."

The children, along with their driver were spirited from their school bus on Thursday by three mysteriously silent men, then buried alive in a quarry nearly 100 miles away. Many doubted they would come home alive to this farm community.

"We didn't think we'd ever get out," 11-year-old

Michelle Robison said Saturday after being reunited with her family. "I thought it was a joke at first. But I didn't when they put us in the vans."

Darla Daniels, a deeply tanned 10-year-old who aspires to movie stardom, said the bus from Dairyland Unified School District was stopped by three gunmen who blocked the road-way with their van. She said the gunmen were wearing ties, but later switched to white coveralls.

During the ride north to a Livermore quarry, Miss Daniels said, the two-van caravan stopped three times so the kidnapers could refuel the vans from gasoline cans they carried. She said the children were hot because they were overed with a tent-like tarp, and they weren't permitted to go out to the bathroom, so "all of us had to go in our pants."

They were herded down a ladder and locked into a World War II vintage moving covered with earth. The kidnapers provided them with two packages of potato chips, three packs of cereal, including Cheerios, and eight gallons of water, then they were left alone with only a flashlight for light.

The children and their driver, Frank Edward Ray, did what they could to keep their fear under control in the stifling underground atmosphere.

"We were singing songs like on the radio," Miss Daniels related.

Mike Marshall, 14, who spent five hours digging an escape hole, said "I thought we were going to die down there."

As he dug towards freedom, Marshall said he "didn't know if they were going to be there pointing guns at our heads or what."

He said the kidnapers "told us to shut up once in a while. They treated us like robbers and stuff. Usually they were all pretty nice until they got nervous."

But he said one gunman hit a young boy who accidentally made a sudden move.

Food scare discounted in Rome

ROME (AP) — While severe drought ravages crops and cattle in Western Europe and Australia, bountiful harvests elsewhere should stave off any world food shortage, according to experts here and abroad.

This may be of little comfort to Europeans, sweltering for weeks and facing the possibility of higher prices for fruits and vegetables.

Or to some of the poorest countries in the Third World which must find the cash to import food to feed their needy or depend on aid from the rich nations.

But specialists at the Rome-based U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization — FAO — citing reports compiled at the end of June, say they are expecting world grain production to rise this year by 7 or 8 per cent above 1975 to about 1.1 billion tons.

Forecasts by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and a survey by The Associated Press indicate favorable harvests, especially in the United States and the Soviet Union.

One casualty of the drought, however, may be attempts to build up reserve food stocks for use in emergencies. Estimated reserves remain below what the FAO considers a safe minimum level, about 17 or 18 per cent of world consumption.

The damage brought by Europe's drought is difficult to measure firmly, subject as it is to daily weather conditions. In the past week it has rained in France and Belgium and experts still hold out hope that significant rainfall will come in time to keep down damage to crops.

Her goal is better child care for a better future

By LILLY AULT

Teaching children to "realize they are in charge of their own behavior" is one of Barbara Olsen's goals at her Family Day Care Center. Barbara, a licensed day care operator who has been in the field for about 14 years including several with CAPE, feels that children today have not been taught how to associate with other children which creates problems for them at school as well as when they grow to be adults. "Some children are afraid to get angry or upset," she says. "They have to learn it is okay to precious possessions, their children, to just about any babysitting facility available." She goes on to state that "the least amount of money is given to mothers to stay home with their children. The second largest amount goes to foster parents and the third highest amount of funds goes for child care institutions. This is country-wide," she explains.

leaders of our country can be looked upon as one of the most important and challenging jobs an individual can take on." In order for the day care centers to improve their services, Barbara feels the support of the community and its leaders is needed. She also feels education on child care centers in the community is also needed.

day care operators in the betterment of child care and development. Each discussion will be conducted by a family day care operator. It will be a workshop planned and conducted by family day care operators, especially for family care operators, however, interested parties are welcome to attend. Tuesday, July 20, a meeting is scheduled at Shannon Community Center, Dublin at 7:30 p.m. to explain benefits of an association of day care operators. All operators and persons interested in becoming an operator are invited to attend. Further information on babysitting care, becoming an operator, the workshop or meeting may be obtained through Barbara Olsen at 846-7312.

lifestyle

get angry, but not to take their feelings out on others — that there are alternatives to taking care of anger in that way."

The young, eager child care specialist is presently involved with the Four C's (Alameda County Community Coordinated Child Care Organization). This organization, under the jurisdiction of Alameda County, offers babysitting facilities for working mothers.

Barbara offers the Family Day Care whereby the child is in a "family atmosphere" where attention can be given on a one to one basis.

"Did you know it's illegal to send a child to a private home for babysitting unless the individual involved has a license?" she asked. "In our program we feel the operator of a facility is willing to give more of herself for better service and to supply a safer, happier atmosphere for the children."

When licensed with the county to become an operator, the entire family is required to have a complete medical examination each year including chest X-ray for TB, be fingerprinted and be interviewed twice by a county worker. The home is also thoroughly checked for safety features for the benefit of the child.

"It's a known fact," says Barbara, "that parents will take more time shopping for an appliance for their home to make sure they are getting the best yet they will take their most Barbara Olsen of Pleasanton, a licensed day care operator, assists youngsters in making pretzels between swims on a hot day. There are just a few of the many activities offered under her supervision.

That government and leaders are going to have to work for a good subsidized child care program for this country is Barbara's opinion. "Part of the reason for the need for better child care benefits," she says, "is out of necessity in some cases or in some situations because the working woman has become a way of life. There are very few countries which do not supply any subsidizing whatsoever for child care," she added.

Barbara feels the day care profession is an excellent alternative for women who like to be with children. "We are more than just babysitters," she claims. "Taking care of the future." "Different situations call for different types of child care," she says. "Child care on a daily regular basis is one need for services however there are situations where 'drop-ins' need a place to go, that is when the mother goes out for a few hours a day, be it a doctor appointment, shopping or whatever. Child care for various ages is also needed."

"I've seen situations where children in the lower elementary grades will be sent to school with a key around their neck and expected to go home and take care of themselves or a mother might ask to pay, say, 50 cents for someone to keep an eye on the child while the child runs free in the neighborhood."

The solution to this problem could be, in Barbara's opinion, solved by utilizing the school facilities in cooperation with the administrators of the school and a child care operator.

Barbara strongly feels "using what we have" is important in taking one step to improving the child care center. "I get tired of places being funded for a service that is already in existence. In one year that place generally goes out of business and the money has been wasted when it could have been used to expand existing services."

For this reason and others, Barbara is working toward organizing a licensed day care operators association. The main reason for doing so is to have a legal entity, a non-profit corporation, which can do such things as receive grants and loans, both public and private, to buy property, enter into contracts all for the purpose of developing and providing quality, reasonably priced child care.

She feels incorporated associations can command more attention and generate more interest from governmental agencies in the critical area of securing operating funds.

With this in mind and hopefully to attract more people to share the interest and learn about day care operations, the Oakland Licensed Day Care Operators Association, the Berkeley - Albany Licensed Day Care Association and the Tri-City Child Care Coordinating Council of Alameda County are preparing for "A Day With The Family Day Care Operator" workshop.

The workshop will be held on Saturday, August 28 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Edgewater Hyatt House, 455 Hegenberger Road, Oakland. The purpose of the workshop is to focus on the unique services provided in the licensed family day care home and by the family

They'll cut hair to cure cancer

Fourteen hair stylists from Alameda County will donate their time and talent for a 24-hour national "style-athon" beginning noon Aug. 15, Chairman Joe Cisneroz of Pleasanton has announced.

Cisneroz, of Tony's Hair Fashion in Pleasanton, said the total proceeds of the event will be given to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, the world's largest childhood cancer research center. Minimum donation for a hair styling at Tony's Hair Fashion during the style-athon will be $10.

Other local shops participating in the event are Vaughn of Dublin, Pleasanton Valley Barber Shop, and Man of Today Hair Design of Fremont. The shops have arranged for all supplies to be donated.

"I guess we are doing this because cancer kills kids," said hair stylist Geri Jones. Cancer is the leading cause of death among children next to accidents. While leukemia is still considered a catastrophic disease, through research at St. Jude Hospital, over 50 percent are being restored to normal lives.

The research center, founded by entertainer Danny Thomas is non-sectarian, inter-racial and completely free of charge.

Participating hair stylists are Al Lopez, Jim Broxterman, Billy Smith, Joyce Alton, Pete Talarico, David Clay, George Avila, Vaughn Arruda, Gayle Jones, and Geri Jones.

Anthropos Foundation

The Anthropos Foundation presents Jay Orlin on the subject of "The Joys of Grouping" Wednesday, July 21 from 8 to 10 p.m. at Anthropos headquarters, 1814 Catalina Ct., Livermore.

The program is open to the public at a $2 donation. Orlin has been involved with groups since he developed a center called Keystone at West Georgia College. He has also run the crisis center at Daybreak in Fremont and has taught group leadership at Contra Costa and Merritt colleges.

His special interest is the family, and he stresses the need for play among adults as well as children.

Roadrunner Unit

President of the active Roadrunner Unit of the Mount Diablo Rehabilitation Center is San Ramon's Anna Stevens who will be assisted this year by Ann Hanscom of Danville, Carolyn Harley and Marty Walker, both of San Ramon. The center in Pleasant Hill offers rehabilitation programs for adults handicapped by injury or illness, children with congenital handicaps and persons with speech or hearing problems. Auxiliary volunteers assist at the center, and operate the Terrace Tea Room on Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek to provide supplemental income for the center. Anna became involved with the Roadrunner Unit five years ago, as she had suffered a hand injury herself and understood the problems of the disabled. She and her husband have four sons. For more information on the Roadrunners, who are planning a September garage sale, call Geri Brown at 828-2840.

It's time to can it!

Good news for home canners! This year, canning lids are plentiful.

If you're going to can vegetables other than tomatoes, you'll need a steam-pressure canner. This is because it takes a temperature higher than that of boiling water to process low acid foods safely in a reasonable length of time. For fruits, tomatoes and pickled vegetables, you can use a boiling-water bath canner. But make sure the water is an inch or two above the tops of containers.

For best quality in the canned product, use only perfect fruits and vegetables at their peak of freshness. Sort them for size and ripeness so they'll cook more evenly. Wash them thoroughly under running water or through several changes of water.

Canning jars have to be perfect, washed in hot soapy water and rinsed well. The same is true for the jar lids.

You can pack fruits and vegetables into containers either raw or at near boiling temperature. Most raw fruits and vegetables shrink during processing so should be packed tightly. Some exceptions are corn, lima beans and peas — they expand. Hot food should be packed fairly loosely.

Use enough syrup, water or juice to fill around and cover the solid food. Otherwise, food at the top tends to darken.

With only a few exceptions, some space should be left between the packed food and the closure. Detailed directions for canning each food are given in the booklet "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," which can be obtained by sending 45 cents to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 27, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

San Ramon's big city impact

Whether or not San Ramon Valley incorporates itself into a city is a move that suggests considerable impact on the its downwind neighbors.

One of the inevitable consequences of any "Town of San Ramon Valley" would be the local right to stem growth. That is why major developmental interests around Mt. Diablo wanted to be excluded from such incorporation proposals. And that is why large property interests left within any such proposed city can be expected to resist, overtly or covertly, that incorporation bid.

Land development always seems to fare better when builders must deal only with county government, rather than having to work the cumbersome and often stubborn ranks of city hall. Volk - McLain knew that when the builders of "San Ramon Village" rejected any thought of annexing their Dublin lands to City of Pleasanton before their 2000 - home venture was well along, and only encouraged a merger of the two communities after San Ramon Village was an accomplished fact.

We don't know why developers prefer to work with county government rather than with the municipal counterpart ... although we have some ideas. Regardless, there is widespread evidence — in San Lorenzo Village, in Castro Valley and in vast reaches of Contra Costa County including San Ramon Valley — that residential and even commercial growth flourish best in the unincorporated areas.

And that is why the valleys of Amador, Livermore, Tassajara and Sunol will be greatly impacted by the decision that now confronts the residents of Danville and San Ramon. If they create a new city, then some curb on the tremendous building activity which now abounds in southern Contra Costa County seems almost certain.

If the bid for "Town of San Ramon Valley" is defeated, then development will likely proceed on its present level, and that will mean new population, more air pollution and greater congestion in the valley that is upstream and upwind from the Amador - Livermore Valley expanse.

The week in retrospect

Cuts 'n conversion

Some pretty important decisions involving parents and students in the Amador and Pleasanton school districts will be made Monday night.

Budgets for both districts will be reviewed in the light of possible cuts, as listed by priority three weeks ago by the two boards.

Depending on the feelings of the respective board members, any number of items of interest to students and parents could be cut in order to send a balanced ledger to the county in August.

The items include busing, freshman athletics, the fifth grade Outdoor Education program, the K-5 instrumental music program, towel service, co-curricular activities, custodial and maintenance department uniforms and reduction of district media center and library services.

Parent/student input to the respective boards on the proposed cuts has been virtually nil to date.

While the passage of SB 1641 is expected to bring each district about $175,000, the funds will be "too little and too late", necessitating decisions on some belt tightening.

When the word went out at this time last year that it would be necessary to cut back on busing (or extend the walking distances, as the school district puts it), the howls were long and loud.

Some school board members have expressed opposition to cutting a primary music teacher position or reducing library services and district media center (at Pleasanton School) personnel.

Their is also a reluctance to eliminate the Outdoor Education Program and conservation over how maintenance personnel can be readily identified if they do not wear uniforms, as in the past.

But the biggest howls may come when enough of the parents of freshman students realize the Amador district is again considering elimination of frosh football, basketball and baseball...and extending the walking area out to three miles for Dublin and Amador students. The latter would apply to ALL students.

The "big money" savings would come in the areas of busing ($30,000 in each district), reduction of the budget by 5.5 full-time equivalent teachers ($73,029), elimination of towel service ($23,623) in the Amador district, and transferring of grounds charges to the community service fund ($20,000).

The Pleasanton board will convene at 7 p.m. Monday and the Amador board at 8:45, both gatherings at the District Educational Center.

While Amador and Pleasanton are moving toward finalization of the 1976-77 budget, the Murray School District's Citizens Advisory Committee is moving with all deliberate speed toward a recommendation on housing of seventh and eighth graders.

Last Wednesday night's meeting would indicate the individual school representatives favor Dublin Elementary for conversion to solely seventh-eighth grade use — if a school is to be converted.

Final decision on that will be made by the Murray board in early September.

A tour of Dublin Elementary Wednesday showed — to this writer — that the school is suitable for strictly junior high use.

Main problem is the present library. It's much too small. Possibly a wall could be knocked out to an adjoining room or the larger (and detached) kindergarten area converted to library use.

Right next door is a swim center which, incidentally, was a godawful mess when viewed Wednesday.

Round the town

I spent all those hours listening to the Democrats ... how they were going to save us from this and that.

But I didn't get the message.

I watched that man with all the hair and the teeth orate on how he was going to do this and that for the nation.

But the message wasn't getting through.

I turned with great understanding to the band of 24 Americans who had held out in Arkansas isolation, waiting for the promised Second Coming of Christ. But the federal marshals came instead.

And they came with the wrong message.

Then I saw this wirephoto in the Friday papers. Pretty girl in New York standing in front of this huge portrait of a vaguely familiar gent, with great white teeth and flowing beard added, and superimposed across the bottom of that photo were these words ... "JC CAN SAVE AMERICA!"

And it was then that I got the message.

Not wishing to lay anything as heavy as Deification on the peanut farmer from Plains, Georgia, a reasonable person might still conclude from four evenings of prime - time coverage that the end is at hand. A new day is dawning. HE has arrived.

This will be particularly exciting news to those under the age of four, those who have spent the last 40 years in solitary confinement, and all others who found the promises of this 1976 convention something to behold.

I am afraid the rest of us have become a trifle cynical about convention - time promises. Republican or Democratic. HST, LBJ or RMN. And now JC.

His initials are promising. So was his speech. He smiles a lot. But laughs hardly at all. Maybe that's good. It most certainly is different!

Gerald Ford is not a smiler. A grinner, on occasion. But not one of your genuine Georgian smiles. We can expect few teeth at the Republican affair in Kansas City, Mo.

But can we expect another deliverance? Judging from past Republican Party gatherings, it seems safe enough to predict that we will be delivered in August no less than we were delivered in July. The horns will sound no less heavenly. The banners will fly upward. And the oratory.

"We shall overcome!" will be the promise of Gerald, or Ronnie, depending on the Gods. What they shall overcome of course is the Democrats. When the Demos sang "We Shall Overcome!" they apparently meant the Republicans. Or poverty. Or sin. Or all three Things tend to overlap, during the spirit of the convention.

Personally, I was very impressed with the music at the New York gathering. Spirited and on key. It is hoped the Kansas City gathering can match it, or else watch out! The American voter is not about to be wooed by a party that plays off - key.

The Democrats had a colored person as a "key note speaker." For the first time ever. Nobody bothered to ask how come the "Party of the People" had failed to invite a single Black American for all these years. But Barbara Jordan was there this time, and spoke very well, very well indeed.

I have it on good authority that the Republicans plan to offset the Demos Black American gambit by bringing in a seventh grader from Topeka. This will also mark a first, and is expected to guarantee the GOP the nation's 7th grade vote, once we change the constitution to give 12 - year - olds the vote, which the Republicans will also advocate. In Kansas City. In August of 1976.

The game plan now, as I understand it, is to be "the Party that was the first to ...". Don't matter what. Just be the first to do it. Black Americans, Chinese Americans, deaf mutes. They are all coming to the pinnacle of American attention, on all three networks, in prime time. Life can be beautiful. At convention time.

I had thought of researching the conventions of our past. Digging out all the promises. And the platforms. And the keynote speeches. There were some dillies, as I recall. Chicken in every pot ... that sort of thing.

But the one thing we Americans (those of us who don't get to stand on the Great Podium) must understand is that the game is not played by convention, so to speak. Those good people get to assemble in New York, or Kansas City, or wherever, and stomp their feet and clap their hands and sing "We Shall Overcome!" But it's just in the excitement of the moment.

No fair - minded American is going to hold them to all that.

No taxpayer in his right mind figures on getting delivered. Not really. Not even if the genuine JC was to come down and make a speech. Which is what the band of 24 Americans finally figured out in Arkansas. When they let the federal marshals lead them away.

A person can wait for deliverance just so long, before somebody comes and leads us away.

Mayor views vote

Editor, The Times:

A recent letter by Mr. Callon which appeared in the Times last Friday has been bothering me and although I had always said I would avoid these public debates I guess I feel strongly enough about how people feel about my actions that I must make at least one attempt to speak my mind.

For anyone that followed the public hearing, brought about by the appeal by the Longspur residents of an action by the Planning Commission, you must know that it was indeed a meeting that deviated somewhat from the normal public hearings. I believe that deviation was justified, however, because Councilman Mercer had worked very hard to put together a compromise that would have resolved the entire situation. He is to be commended for his work and I am sorry and somewhat confused that after everyone finally agreed to Mr. Mercer's proposal, a motion was made and passed that erased all that effort. The problem had been resolved, both the developer and the appellant agreed to the changes and it was all tossed aside. It was that motion that I voted against. My vote was not one that opposed the residents and I hope if that is how it was construed, this will correct it. I, too, as other Councilmembers took the time to meet with the residents and agreed that a compromise was in order.

That is the extent of my concern. With regard to Mr. Callon's other remarks about my bank profiting from commercial development let me say that it has been my experience that generally, when I do something that a person agrees with I am a fine dedicated public servant who really cares about the people. On the other hand when people like Mr. Callon disagree with my actions I'm usually a lousy representative who is only serving on the Council for personal and business gain.

For me, that is the hardest part of being a Councilman.

Chamber BBQ'd

Editor, The Times:

Mr. Fischer's recent article "Bad Decisions," appears to be another negative article written by someone who does not have all the facts.

This year for the first time, the Chamber could control their own food and bar at the Pleasanton Day BBQ and there was hope for a very successful event. Successful event not being a huge money maker, but, an event that would pay for itself. The Chamber has been running a very tight budget this past year. Many steps have been taken to eliminate unnecessary costs and expenditures. The probability of a financial loss on the BBQ therefore was, I think, important to the board who voted to cancel this event.

The races, Mr. Fischer, are a very definite draw for the BBQ. Last year there were nearly 300 advance ticket sales. The majority of these pre-sold tickets were full packages — gate, track, and BBQ tickets. The few that were not, sold mainly to people who all ready had gate and track passes. This may not prove that the races make the BBQ a success but, it does prove many people from Pleasanton that go to the races that day also go to the BBQ.

Proper, positive publicity from your paper could very well have made the BBQ a success. It is interesting to note that for many months your paper was aware of the July 7th Pleasanton Day events yet there was no mention in any advance article about the BBQ. By June 29th, the fair was operating with no fear of complete cancellation and the Chamber submitted a full press release on the BBQ. Finally July 2nd, on page 10, the first BBQ article appeared and very incomplete at that.

It would be very helpful to the Chamber of Commerce if we had full, positive Pleasanton Times support for our events, not so we can take in huge sums of money, but so we can operate properly. It appears to often that Chamber publicity, if published at all, is to close to the event for proper response.

We have asked your newspaper many times to publish on the front page information on our weekly Tuesday meetings. Curiously enough, one of the few times this was done and done well, was when John Edmands was the monthly program chairman.

The Chamber of Commerce of Pleasanton's job is to promote their town, and one of the greatest assets could be this newspaper — why not give it a try?

Letters to the Times

680 crossing

Editor, The Times:

A pedestrian overcrossing at West Las Positas combined with the Stoneridge Drive vehicle overpass would provide the following benefits to the community: 1. Eliminate unsafe pedestrian traffic across and under I-680. 2. Reduce mileage for parents and students traveling to Foothill High. 3. Provide a safer bus route and/or reduce or eliminate the need for busing students to Foothill from Val Vista and Valley Trails. 4. Improved emergency vehicle response. 5. Provide residents west of I-680 with better access to Pleasanton shopping. 6. Provide residents east of I-680 with better access to the proposed shopping center. 7. Keep transient vehicle traffic in our residential areas at a minimum.

According to Mr. Keller, Cal-Trans, the Stoneridge overpass and a pedestrian overcrossing at Las Positas could be completed 18 months after the money is raised. On the other hand, a vehicle overcrossing at Las Positas would take a minimum of three years.

A Las Positas vehicle overpass would cost $1.5 million and would have to be financed by Pleasanton residents (probably through property taxes). Although Cal-Trans promised to finance it, there is no money available and it is not even on their priority list.

The Stoneridge overpass already has an approved bond measure to pay for it's construction. The bonds would be retired through the City's share of sales tax revenue generated by the shopping center. The City Council has allocated $375,000 of the $450,000 needed to build a pedestrian overcrossing at Las Positas.

I believe the time for action is now. I strongly urge the City Council to do the following: 1. Obtain a legally binding

Vineyard traffic

Copy of a letter to —

Pleasanton City Council:

I am writing to ask you to Please reconsider your decision to put restricted parking on Vineyard Avenue.

By carrying out this decision to restrict parking on Vineyard you are completely ignoring the parking and speeding problems listed by the majority of the people surveyed... Everyone agrees that removing parking on Vineyard will increase the speed of traffic even more than it is now, and that is an average of 37 mph in a 25 mph posted zone. How are the people going to back out of their driveways or pull out from side streets, if the vehicles are traveling so fast ...

As for the parking, you already know how we feel about wanting to be able to park in front of our own homes, but won't be able to if you take all parking off Vineyard between 7 a.m. — 8 p.m. The apartment dwellers who normally park on Vineyard Ave. will park in front of our homes on the side streets, as some are already doing ...

I testified in my appeal to you ... that the recently painted red curbs were already showing an increase in visibility in this area ... red curbs are definitely making an improvement for the people who have to back out of their driveways or drive out of the streets along Vineyard Avenue. Since it can not be determined that restricted parking is the best solution to this particular problem, could it be left with parking on the south side of the street and see how the painted red curbs will work out? Make this a trial period of 6 months if need be, but I feel we should have a chance to try this solution before going to the expense of Restricted Parking signs and their enforcement ...

With this increase in visibility and some kind of enforcement to get tenants to park in spaces provided for them, I feel we can all live somewhat in harmony with the area.

Mrs. Jan Johnson
Pleasanton

The price

Federal - matching funds for Presidential candidates passed their first test with flying colors, as far as Common Cause, the "good government" lobby is concerned.

But the law ought to be extended to Senatorial and Congressional campaigns to so that the "arms race" between Big Labor donations and Big Business donations de - escalates, according to Common Cause Vice - president Fred Wertheimer.

Critics of the act which was passed two years ago said that the incumbent President would benefit greatly from the public contributions and the spending limits. But in the Ford vs. Reagan battle, the former governor of California has shown how the act can benefit a challenger, especially one with many supporters who kick in their ten and twenty dollar bills, according to Wertheimer.

Critics also said that a relative unknown could not emerge under the new financial rules, but Jimmy Carter disproved that one, said Wertheimer. For that matter, so did Morris Udall, coming from the relative obscurity of his Arizona Congressional district to a second place finish behind the immensely popular Carter. Their popular appeal to voters translated directly into dollars which in turn helped them to make more friends through money spent on the media. They beat better known but less popular figures like Washington Senator Henry Jackson, showing that in politics the media really carries the message.

Wertheimer's rhetoric to the press is stimulating in a populist and idealistic way and it's worth quoting some of it to give a flavor of how Common Cause feels about the campaign spending law.

"The old system is gone and we are all better off for its demise. It was a system that in 1972 allowed 153 individuals to provide $20 million to Richard Nixon; a system that winked at massive illegal contributions from the largest corporations in America; that condoned the sale of ambassadorships to the highest bidder; and that invited pledges of million dollar campaign contributions in return for direct economic benefits.

"It was a system that contributed substantially to the arrogance of power that produced Watergate. It was also a system that encouraged the very wealthy in both major parties to believe that they had special rights in choosing our President for us," Wertheimer wrote in a press release for Common Cause.

Another advantage is the potential effect on minority parties. Even within the Democratic Party, Ellen McCormack, the anti - abortion candidate from the East, got only 5 per cent of the vote at most in any given state primary. But she did get some matching funds and this enabled her to put commercials on the air plugging her point of view on her favorite issue. That's a good thing for public debate of the issues.

Hopefully there will be enough contributors from minority parties of the Left and Right and wherever you put the Vegetarians and Prohibitionists so that they, too, can become more visible in the political forum. We have Presidential elections every four years as much to inform voters about new ideas as to choose people to hold the offices in the power structure.

The law should be extended to Congress, too, where the old system still operates on a miniature level. Incumbents, especially members of powerful committees, have big donations heaped on them by special interests. Let's see how quickly Congress acts to reform itself on this point.

For Sunday, July 18, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have honorable intentions today, but they're not enough to excuse your making people you help feel obligated to you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be satisfied that what people offer you today is the best they can give. It's not fair to expect others to try to operate by your standards.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You can be very gracious to those who accede to your wishes today. Pals who try to think for themselves won't please you nearly as much.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Whether or not you realize it, your motives are transparent today. It'll be little avail for you to try to put others on.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Although you have a tendency to deal in illusion today, you must come to grips with reality. It would be a serious mistake to do otherwise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In business dealings today, make up your mind to grit your teeth and hold the line. Your opponent is determined to have his way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) An inability to decide which way the scales are leaning could cause you to delay so long that whatever you say or do is really irrelevant.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Usually you're ready to jump in with both feet when there's something to do today; you're likely to look for an excuse to hold back.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're more glib today than usual today. You tend to believe what friends tell you, though you know in your heart it's not true.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have sympathy today with those under you. This should be fine, except that you should be exercising discipline rather than restraint.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It would be nifty today if you could stay in bed and shut the world out. Scale down your activities as much as possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you plan to begin a new project today, line up your list of materials before you start. You could buy much more than needed otherwise.

Indian Center meeting Wednesday

LIVERMORE — Parents of American Indian students, and other supporters of the local American Indian Center, are invited to a meeting Wednesday night to plan for the coming year.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the center, 577 North Livermore Ave.

The center is operated by a committee under the auspices of the Livermore Unified School District. Funding comes from the federal Title IV program. Barbara Karr chairs the committee.

The agenda includes reviewing bylaws for the committee; revising the budget to include an additional $4,000 received.

Summer camp for blind kids

LIVERMORE — With the approach of summer, camping and swimming become important activities with most families. Knowing that blind children enjoy these things as much as sighted ones, the Christian Record Braille Foundation has scheduled 34 camps for blind children this summer, according to Robert Becker, pastor of the Livermore Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The foundation, which provides many services for blind and partially sighted people, began National Camps for Blind Children in 1967. Blind children between the ages of nine and 19 have the opportunity to swim, hike, make friends and even practice archery by shooting balloons on a target.

"There is no cost to the campers," says Pastor Becker, "except transportation to and from camp. The program includes canoeing, horseback riding, crafts, campfires — even Beeper baseball where the kids can hear the ball coming."

The Foundation receives no government aid for camp programs. It is funded by gifts, wills, legacies and public contributions. There will be a blind camp at Wawona Camp, Wawona, Calif. Anyone who knows about a blind or visually impaired child who would enjoy this experience can write for information to Wawona Camp, Box 35, Wawona, Calif. 95389.

Dublin eliminated in twinbill

NEWARK — Dublin's senior league all-star team scored 16 times in yesterday's doubleheader with Mission San Jose at Memorial High School here yesterday.

Unfortunately for Dublin, only two of those runs came in the second contest. As a result the valley team was eliminated from the playoffs.

Dublin scored in every inning in the first contest to post a 14-3 win but saw the tables reversed on them in the second game as Mission San Jose drove to a 14-2 decision.

Thus Mission San Jose meets either Newark National or Newark American for the District 57 championship today on the MSJ field.

Willie Langenhuijzen pitched well in the first contest, going the distance, striking out five batters and scattering eight hits.

The Dublin batters back him well with 11 hits, two apiece by Jeff Bynum, Doug Daugherty and Joe Raposa.

Dublin scored single runs in the first, second and third innings then exploded for four runs in the fourth.

After Daugherty and Dan Pearson walked Mike Caloiaro blasted a double, driving in Daugherty and sending Pearson to third. Bynum then smacked another double, scoring Pearson and Caloiaro. An error brought the fourth run in.

Raposa opened up the fifth for Dublin with a single to left. Catcher Jorge Garrett walked and Langenhuijzen sacrificed both runners. Pearson then belted a single to score both runners.

Dublin added five more runs in the sixth. Singles by Mike Harmon, Raposa, Garrett and Daugherty combined with walks to Caloiaro and Ralph Johnson produced the runs.

The second tilt was a different matter, however.

Pearson, Caloiaro and Rosenbach each belted singles in the first inning to give Dublin a 2-0 lead. It was short-lived, however as Mission San Jose came back to score one run in their half of the first and exploded for five in the second stanza.

Five singles and a sacrifice by Eric Bauman provided the five second inning runs for Mission San Jose. From then on there was no stopping the Fremonet club. The winners added two runs in the fifth and brought six across in the sixth.

A roaring triple by winning pitcher Mark Vincenzi scored Scott Mathis with the winners' first run of the sixth. A double by first baseman Todd Santos drove Vincenzi home. Three singles by Maurice Gonzales, Doug Yeggy and Steve Greveitall scored the final MSJ runs.

The winners had 13 hits to just four for Dublin. Vincenzi pitched a masterful game. He only allowed one hit after the first inning and struck out seven batters. He also gave up three walks.

Gonzales led the MSJ attack with three hits. Rosenbach had one hit and two RBI's for the losers.

Cannon pulls big upset

Unseeded Chuck Cannon knocked off fourth-seeded Dave Dibiasi 6-1, 6-3 yesterday in first round action of the Pleasanton Racquet Club Singles Tournament at Amador High School in Pleasanton.

Cannon's upset of Dibiasi was the only shocker of the day, as most of the seeded players recorded first-round wins.

Second-seeded Doug Balaban topped Ron Musket 6-1, 6-2, while third-seed Steve Torrono ripped Todd Larse, 6-2, 6-0.

Don Smith handled Bud Kern 6-1, 6-2, while Steve Williford had a much tougher time against former EBAL champ Doug Larsen, edging him 7-6, 7-5. Williford attends Livermore High.

Jerry Stunkel came away a winner, topping Bud Coutts 6-3, 6-2, while Paul Zarcone raced to a 6-0, 6-2 win over Scott Halbrook to complete the seeded-players' matches.

Top-seeded Ron Reynolds drew a first-round bye, and played his first match late yesterday.

Action will continue in the tourney today and will culminate with next week's finals. Women's opening-round play will initiate next weekend.

Wicks leads Senior stars

HOLLISTER — Pleasanton Senior Babe Ruth, champions of the Valley Division of the Alcosta League, travelled here yesterday to participate in the Senior Babe Ruth State Tournament.

They defeated Berkeley, champions of the North Division, 1-0. Brett Boldrini, Pleasanton leadoff hitter, beat out a hit, advanced to second on a fielder's choice and scored on a Dan Straface single in the first inning for the game's only run.

Berkeley threatened in the top of the fourth with two men on and no outs. On a pick-off attempt, catcher to shortstop, the ball bounced into centerfield, where Boldrini fired a strike to Don Palmer at third to nab the runner trying to advance.

Pitcher Rob Wicks fanned the next batter and retired the third hitter on a pop-up to first base.

Berkeley could not solve Wicks, who struck out nine while allowing only two hits and three walks. Boldrini and Straface collected two hits each and Sean Mays and Don Palmer added singles for the six Pleasanton hits.

Pleasanton returns to Hollister Sunday at 2:30 for the second game, against the winner of the Hayward-Fremont contest.

Martinez leads Stockton nine

Lisa Martinez got North Stockton off to a flying start in the Bobby Sox softball District 53 minor league all-star tournament at Pleasanton School yesterday.

Martinez fired a 18-strikeout no-hitter as the central valley team clubbed Hayward, 15-0, in the tourney's opening game. Cynthia Twiss took the loss for Hayward, striking out only four batters despite going the distance.

Hayward salvaged something with a double play from Maxine Garcia to Kathy Hillis.

In the next game, San Leandro put together a fourth-inning rally to top San Lorenzo, 11-5. Other scheduled games yesterday were North Livermore, which led after five innings, over East Stockton and Fairfield vs. hostess Pleasanton.

Today's scheduled games include Hayward vs. San Lorenzo at 2 p.m.; North Stockton vs. San Leandro at 4 p.m. and two other games pending the outcomes of yesterday's late affairs.

This was the scene yesterday as the Olympic Flag was raised during opening ceremonies in Montreal, as seen from the upper balcony of the Olympic Stadium. Despite political snafus that have plagued the days before, the games will go on as scheduled, with events opening today.

Wolfe out of Publinks golf

COON RAPIDS, Minn. — Vic Wolfe, of Livermore, was eliminated from the United States Public Links Golf Championship by Ventura's Gary Hitch, 3-and-2, at the Municipal Course here Friday.

Wolfe, the third place medalist, had recorded three wins in match play prior to the defeat.

Milwaukee's Archie Dadian, a former tour pro who finished third in the Publinks three times, played for the title yesterday against Louisville's Eddie Mudd.

Dadian, 42, was three under par in crushing Rick Roskopf, 39, Beaverton, Oregon, seven-and-six in the semi-finals. The 22-year-old Mudd, who plans to turn pro next summer, was one-under on the 6670-yard, par 72 course, to defeat Hitch in their semi-final match, 2-up.

Hitch won the 17th hole as Mudd three-putted from 60 feet and then hit a wedge seven feet from the hole on 19, but Mudd responded with a wedge shot to within 18 inches of the cup. Hitch missed his putt and conceded Mudd's birdie to end the match.

Roskopf chipped poorly and missed five of the first seven greens. Dadian birdied the ninth and tenth holes to build a seven-hole lead.

Mudd was two under par in his quarter-final match earlier Friday to defeat Kim Hubbard of Spokane, 5-and-3.

Dadian, bothered by a chronic knotted muscle in his left shoulder in the cool morning weather, went six-over par in the first 12 holes against Jim Peterson, 22 of Scottsdale, Ariz. However, he erased a three-down deficit with a late charge to win four of the last six holes, posting a one-up verdict.

"If we'd played this morning, he'd have buried me," Dadian said of Roskopf, who putted brilliantly during a 5-and-4 quarter-final victory over Randy Pallis of Torrance. Roskopf was two-under par in his quarter-final win.

Dadian was a pro in 1965 when he broke two bones in his left hand after striking an underground rock with his wedge during the Azalea Open. He required surgery and didn't play for five years and regained his amateur status.

Since 1971, Dadian has never finished lower than sixth in the Public Links national championships.

Valley church news

St. Philip

DUBLIN—“Who touched my garments?” based on Mark 5:24-34 will be the sermon topic given by Pastor Sergei Koberg at St. Philip Lutheran Church, corner of Davona and Alcosta on Sunday. Communion will be celebrated at the 8:30 a.m. service. The second service is at 11 a.m.

Nursery for small children is available at both services. Bible classes for all ages are held at 9:45 a.m. You are invited to join us for worship and study.

The second summer patio discussion for adults and youth for growth and sharing will be held Wednesday, July 21 at 8 p.m. The topic will be “Let’s Praise the Lord with Psalms.” As a brief study of the Psalms as background, groups will then be given a choice of situations and will write their own psalm. Call the church office, 828-2117, for place of meeting.

Evangelical

PLEASANTON—At the 11 a.m. morning worship service at the Evangelical Free Church, Pastor Merle Aaker, will ask those present to consider the message taken from Isaiah 6:1-9 in which God is teaching Isaiah the lesson that though the throne of the kingdom may have been empty, His throne was never empty. More important than the service to such a God is worship. Rev. Aaker is entitling his sermon “Coals from off the Altar.”

At the evening service at 7 p.m. he will speak from James 5:7-12 with the theme, “Be Patient — He is coming!” He says through this text we find that man should not grow impatient in waiting for the second coming of Christ, because He will come as He has promised.

Evangelical Free Church meets in the Valley View School on Adams Way. Besides the 11 a.m. service they also meet for Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. Youth Groups for all ages meet at 5:45 p.m. A mid-week service is held on Wednesday evenings in the Pleasanton Gardens Community Room on Kottlinger Avenue.

People's Church

Sunday activities begin at 9:30 a.m. with the School of the Bible for adults and Sunday school classes for all ages of children, followed by the Morning worship service and Children’s Church at 10:45.

Communion and prayer is at 5:30 p.m., with the celebration of praise service immediately following at 6. Nursery care is provided all day Sunday, and during all sessions of the School of the Bible. The schedule for all activities is available by calling 455-4250 or 447-2143. People’s Church, 1135 Bluebell Dr., has an evangelical and pentecostal background and is actively involved in the movement of renewal in the Holy Spirit.

Special music will be sung from the Jubilate songbook and by soloists from the Chancel Choir. Older children are invited to attend with their families, while a pre-school class for 3-5 year-olds meets during the 9:30 a.m. hour. Child care is provided in the nursery for infants and toddlers.

A children’s summer celebration vacation church school meets Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 p.m. for Kindergarten through Junior High youth. For more information on this special school call 828-1846.

Livermore’s intimate peek at stars

LIVERMORE—Ever go to a “star party?”

Astronomers will be your hosts, big telescopes the highlight of a Saturday night gathering July 31 at Del Valle Regional Park.

By the thin light of a crescent moon, enthusiasts will scan the heavens through powerful telescopes lent by the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory and will hear lectures from naturalists and astronomers.

The free session begins at 7:30 p.m. in the park’s new amphitheatre, reached by going straight past the entrance kiosk, crossing the bridge over Del Valle Lake and turning left into the campground.

Del Valle is located 11 miles south of Livermore, out South Livermore Avenue to Mines Road.

is lending three telescopes for the party — two Celetrons, a 10 - inch and an eight - inch, and an eight - inch Dynamax.

The skies should be alight with the planet Venus, the five Polar constellations, galaxies and nebulae.

The Polar constellations which are visible in this area the year round are the Big and Little Dippers, Draco the Dragon, Cepheus and Cassiopeia.

Stars of the Summer Triangle are Vega in the constellation Lyra (the Lyre), Altair in Aquila (the Eagle) and Deneb in Cygnus (the Swan.) Others to be seen that night will include the constellations of Hercules, Bootes (the Herdsman), Scorpius (the Scorpion) and Sagittarius (the Archer) which Naturalist Joanne Dean of EBRPD describes as “looking like a teapot, with the Milky Way furnishing the steam.”

EBRPD naturalist Dick Angel will help Dean with the lecturing and star - pointing. Also on the program are astronomer Stuart Inglis of Chabot College and members of the LLL Recreation Association Astronomy Club, including such professionals as Joseph L. Brady of Walnut Creek, who received world recognition recently upon his hypothesis that, by virtue of comet behavior, there is a tenth planet out beyond Pluto.

The $1.50 park entrance fee at Del Valle will be lifted at 7 p.m. to allow star party - goers free access to the park.

Participants are advised to bring along telescopes available. Also, blankets and binoculars to supplement the three that will be advised.

Oil’s recyclable too

PLEASANTON— Besides recycling your newspapers, glass and cans, what about your motor oil?

That’s right — the yucky stuff you dump down the storm sewer when nobody’s watching. Instead of creating oil slicks that devastate marine life, you can now put it into some kind of container and drop it off for recycling at Chuck Dorkin’s Pleasanton Union Service, 922 Santa Rita Road.

Holland oil trucks will collect the oil periodically and haul it to a refinery. It can be recycled as auto lube oil or low - sulphur industrial fuel.

Both proprietor Dorkin and the Dublin - Pleasanton Recycling Center (whose collection site for other wastes is on Dublin Boulevard next to the Foremost Research Center, open 10 a.m. to 4, Saturdays only) will be getting paid by Holland for the old oil. Holland has been recycling drain oil for several years, but recently decided to make a broader public appeal “as a way of conserving a valuable national resource and stopping pollution of our waters with waste petroleum products.”

Mrs. Althea Miller, who is coordinating the project for the Recycling Center, said, “This is an easy way for people to participate in a very meaningful ecological effort. The Center will conduct an all - out campaign to inform Dublin and Pleasanton area residents that there is now a safe, convenient place to dump drain oil.”

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

The Royal Moroccan archives in Rabat treasures a letter sent by President George Washington to H.M. Mohamed III, ninth ruler of the Moroccan Alaouite Dynasty, a direct ancestor of the present King, H.M. Hassan II (17th in the Alaouite Dynasty). The treaty mentioned in the letter was the “Treaty of Peace and Friendship” signed in 1787 for a duration of 50 years. Renegotiated in 1836, and still in force, it is considered to be the longest unbroken friendship treaty in history. The World Almanac notes.

Pleasanton Presbyterian

PLEASANTON— The Rev. Robert Vogt of Community Presbyterian Church, on Neal Street, has entitled his sermon: “In Your Need and Hunger — Jesus Believes in You!” for this Sunday’s worship services at 10 a.m. in the Sanctuary.

OWN A HOME THAT COSTS LESS TO OWN.

Today, when you save energy, you save money. So if you look for a home displaying an Energy Conservation Home sign, you can look forward to owning a home which helps keep energy costs down.

In addition to meeting local, State and Federal (FHA) insulation and weather stripping requirements, an Energy Conservation Home has a combination of special built-in features that either conserve energy or use necessary energy more efficiently and economically. Features will vary with each home; examples are dishwashers with "off" switch for the drying cycle, hot water flow controls, set-back furnace thermostat, fluorescent lighting, and clogged filter indicator on the heating or cooling system.

So make sure your new home has a built-in energy savings plan. Make sure it's an Energy Conservation Home.
